Blåfjell, 6 km (R/T)

This is a child friendly and easy outing for the whole family. The mountain lies between Grunnfjord, Hansnes and Dåfjord villages, and is a popular recreation area year round. The path is a great evening trip in the summer with nice resting areas along the way. About halfway up is a rustic shelter with a fire pit and kindling. The route offers beautiful views over Langsundet and the islands of Vannøya, Karlsøya and Reinøya. From the cairn at the top you can see large parts of Karlsøy municipality. Have a good trip!

Blåfjell

Trail description

Driving time from Tromsø is about 1 hour. Drive fv. 863 to Ringvassøya island. When you reach the intersection in Hessfjord follow fv. 302 towards Dåfjord / Skogsfjord about 2.5 km. The trail to Blåfjell (479 MASL) is marked from the start. Follow the path up to the east through the glossy birch forest along the stream to the tree line where the trail then traverses heather and tussocks. Towards the top are beautiful views of Karlsøy's majestic islands and mountains. The Blåfjellet path is part of a larger network, so if you have time we recommend going down to Grunnfjord or to Hansnes via Gråsteinåsen.
